

The Vincentian Studies Institute of DePaul University
announces the February 22, 2010 release of:

Vincent de Paul: Charity's Saint

This new documentary film examines Vincent de Paul and his life and times in 17th century France.

It celebrates the role of Louise de Marillac in the founding of the Vincentian tradition.

It highlights the mission of charity and evangelization of the poor that gave birth to the Congregation of the Mission
Daughters of Charity
Sisters of Charity
Ladies of Charity
Confraternities of Charity Society of St. Vincent de Paul and other branches of the Vincentian Family.

It speaks to the contemporary relevance of the Vincentian tradition.

Copies of the film can be obtained through the Vincentian Studies Institute/Barnes and Noble Bookstore
